REMEMBER ENGAGE

WEDNESDAY 1 JUNE 2016

This second day will be dedicated to networking meetings that will take place in two different venues. Participants are kindly invited to attend meeting relevant to their interest or activity.

EUROPEAN REMEMBRANCE NETWORKING MEETING

(Strand 1 of the “Europe for Citizens” programme)

Venue: El Born Centre de Cultura i Memòria - Plaça Comercial, 12, 08003 Barcelona

The European Remembrance networking meeting is open to all conference participants except members of the Civil Dialogue of the «Europe for Citizens» programme. It will address the four following questions:

- 1. Where are the imaginary boundaries of European citizenship and European memory?*
- 2. How can we make democracy in the form of pluralism and a dialogue of cultures a reality?*
- 3. How can we create inclusive memory which will sustain democratic and integrative citizenship?*
- 4. How can solidarity be produced across national and religious divides?*

4. WORKSHOPS

a. Workshops A and B

Combatting immigrants' stigmatisation and promoting intercultural dialogue in a context of rising populism

Nowadays, stigmatisation is regularly used by extremist or populist movements against immigrants in the political discourse. Such rhetoric exacerbates xenophobia, intolerance and discriminations, and threatens the cohesion of EU societies. It might result in hampering integration and mutual understanding and adopting legislations contrary to the core values on which the European Union is founded. At the same time, it could foster further marginalisation among the most vulnerable or excluded people within EU societies. As the 'Europe for Citizens' programme aims to foster a better understanding of Union values through debates, the Civil Dialogue members and beneficiaries will exchange on their best practises and methods to deal with migrant and refugee crisis in a context of rising populism.

Introduced by Marc RICHIR, DG HOME, deputy head of unit A1

Civil Dialogue members will split into two workshops animated by IEP-Berlin and Volonteuropé

15:45-16:00

Coffee Break

16:00-17:15

b. Workshops C and D

Reaching out to Union citizens in the times of Euroscepticism

In a context where Euroscepticism has gained ground in Member States and influence their political agendas, it is more and more difficult to reach out to citizens on European issues. To counter arguments that challenge the achievements and very existence of the EU, Euroscepticism should be considered without any prejudice as a political reality.

The 'Europe for Citizens' programme aims to enhance civic participation, and through debates, encourage a better understanding of the EU and its policies. In this perspective, the Civil Dialogue members and beneficiaries will be debating on innovative ways/methodologies to teach and explain Europe to citizens, and better involve the hard-to-reach publics in the European Affairs. Based on their best practices and their daily contacts with civil society, they will also reflect on a renovated discourse about Europe, a new narrative that would be more appealing, notably to the younger generations.

Introduced by Bruno DENIS, DG HOME, unit A1, “Europe for Citizens”

Civil Dialogue members will split into two workshops animated by European Youth Forum and European Alternatives

17:15-17:30
